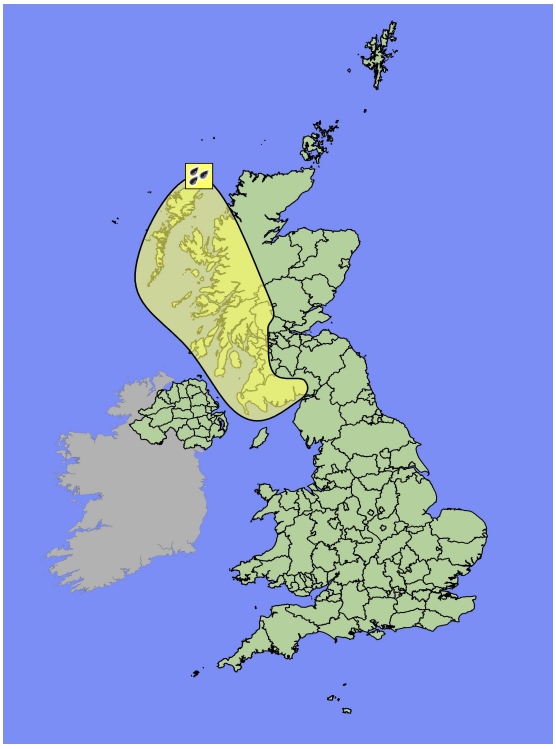
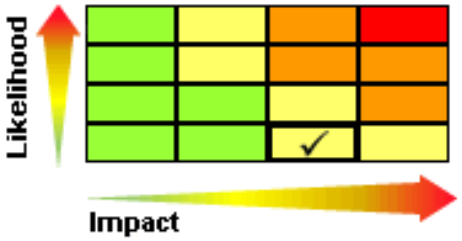
National Severe Weather Warning Service





Chief Forecasters Assessment
An active frontal system is expected to move across Scotland during Thursday. 20 to 40 mm of rain is expected quite widely with up to 60 mm possible on some west facing slopes. This will be accompanied by strong winds with gusts of 50 to 60 mph. This is likely to bring down leaves which could lead to blocked drains. There remains some uncertainty about exact timings and rainfall amounts.

The Met Office have issued a Yellow Alert of Rain

Valid from 00:05 on Thu, 22nd Nov 2012 until 18:00 on Thu, 22nd Nov 2012

A band of heavy rain is expected to move east across Scotland on Thursday. Following recent heavy rain across the south and west of Scotland the public should be aware that this may lead to localised flooding and possible disruption to transport. The rain will be accompanied by a strong and gusty southerly wind.
